

Alessandro Martinotti

Architectural Designer, BIM Coordinator

■ PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

I'm an architectural designer working across architecture, BIM and visualisation. My thesis reactivated a derelict textile mill in Görlitz; since then I've coordinated BIM on a large campus project in Heilbronn, freelanced on renovation and reuse projects, and designed an extension for a surf retreat in the Maldives. I work well in a team, and right now I'm looking for a place where I can grow long-term and put in the hours toward getting licensed with the OAI. Outside of work I play 7s rugby for Luxembourg's national team and build physical models for fun.

■ EXPERIENCE

Freelance Architectural Designer

Jun 2025 – Present

alessandromartinotti.com

- Currently freelancing for Promobe on a hotel development project, alongside smaller renovation and adaptive-reuse work.

Architectural Designer

Mar 2026 – Jul 2026

EQ Surf Retreat, Maldives

- Designed the architectural extension to the retreat, staying sensitive to the island, its climate and local building methods.

BIM Coordinator Assistant

Jun 2024 – Jul 2025

KadawittfeldArchitektur

- Supported the planning team through Autodesk Revit on the IPAI Heilbronn project, LP3-LP4.

Workshop Supervisor

Nov 2022 – Jul 2023

Berlin International University of Applied Sciences

- Supervised the architecture workshop — 3D printing, laser cutting, model making — and supported students and staff.

Engineering-Design Intern

Aug 2022 – Sep 2022

Rizzani de Eccher, Rotterdam NL

- Worked on the extension of Rotterdam's historic Postkantoor, gaining insight into large-scale construction and coordination.
